

- Potential uses of the data
- Data presented as context to assessment scientists
- Data presented to others involved in assessments
- Information submitted as context in Research Track Assessment Process
- Index included in exploratory runs of an assessment model
- Index included in peer-review of official model

- Communication about the agreement between the data products and assessment findings
- Communication of the extent to which data were used
- Discussion about potential new data uses
- Discussion of data sets that would be useful to collect in the future